

Rassias Method® Teacher Workshop at Dartmouth College

The Rassias Foundation is pleased to offer Beginning Level workshop on May 9th -10th, at Dartmouth College in Hanover, NH.

The Rassias Method® includes some fifty dramatic techniques that work to banish the inhibitions that can retard the acquisition of foreign languages. RM techniques hold students' attention and foster spontaneous use of the language. Teachers' workshops in the Rassias Method offer instructors an array of dynamic classroom activities that use movement, sound, rhythm and motion to help students learn. Workshop participants will enjoy a supportive, intensive, small group session environment as they practice applying RM techniques to their current classroom materials. Originally developed during the advent of the Peace Corps, the techniques have been adopted by language teachers worldwide.
