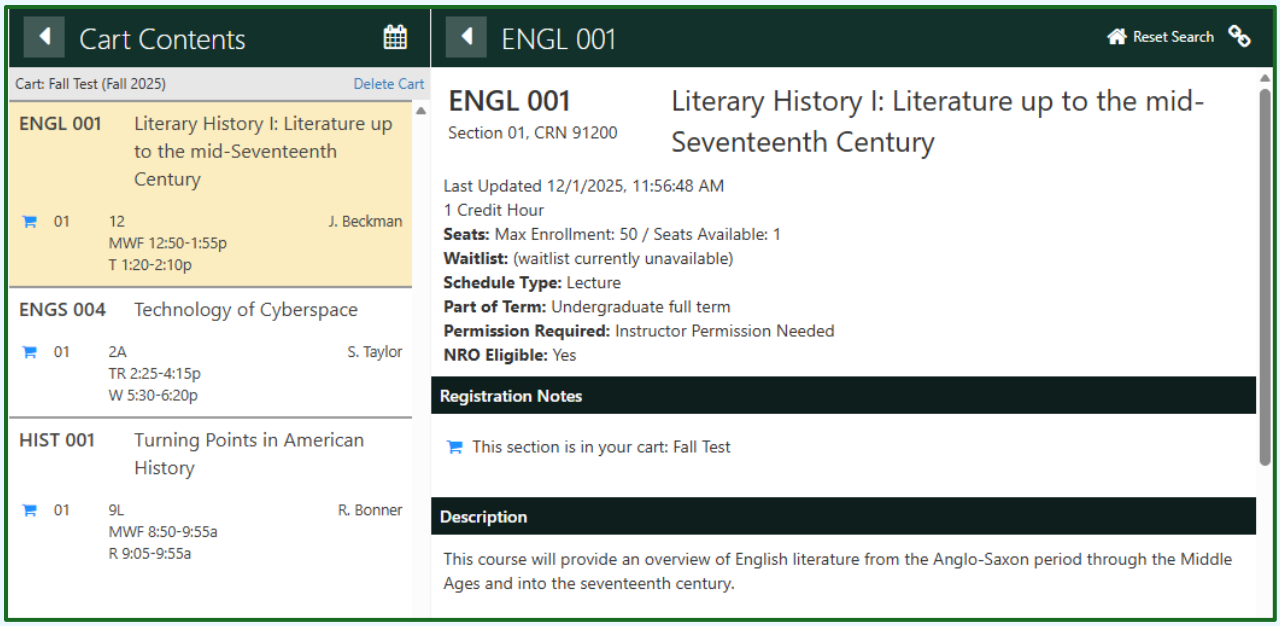
A newsletter of the Arts and Sciences Registrar's Office

Welcome to the next edition of On Course, the A&S Registrar's Office newsletter to the Dartmouth community, where we share important information, reminders, and fun facts!

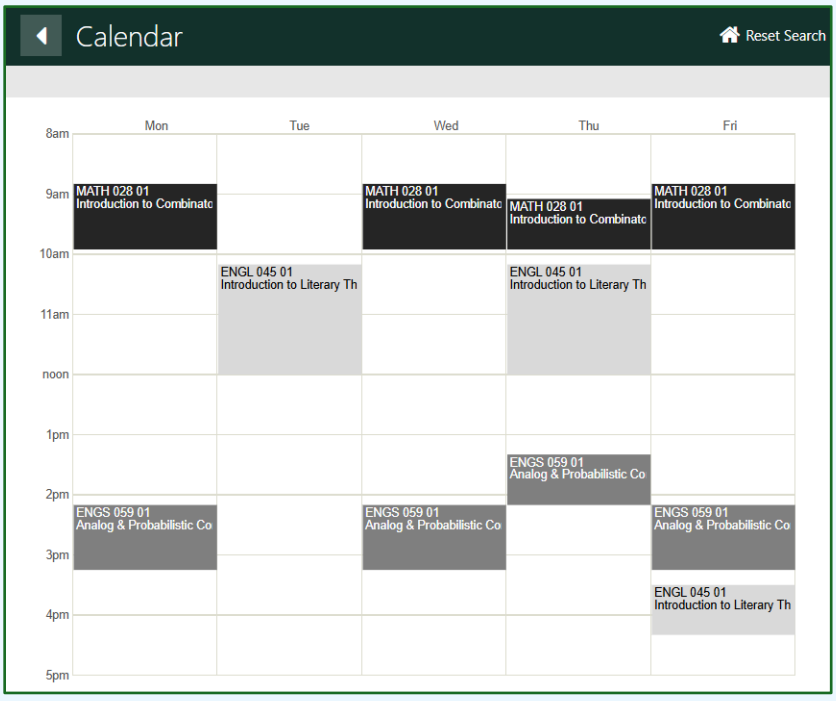
Feature Highlight: Primary Carts in Courses at Dartmouth

Work is progressing on Courses at Dartmouth, the new course registration interface for Dartmouth students. One of the new features designed to enhance student experience is the Primary Cart, a tool to help students in planning their courses for the next term by displaying course information for the selected courses all in one place.

Students register for courses by adding them to their Primary Cart. The cart displays basic course information, such as the title of the course and the days/times the course is held. Clicking on a course opens a detailed view that includes course description, prerequisites, cross-lists, NRO eligibility, and more.



While viewing the contents of the Primary Cart, students can use the calendar icon to open the weekly calendar view, where the schedule for the cart contents is displayed. Students can use this information to better balance their schedules and see if their selections have any time conflicts.



The A&S Registrar's Office continues to work closely with ITC to bring the new course registration interface to Dartmouth. Be on the lookout for further announcements, including the publication of guides and the release schedule. Please note, as this is an ongoing project, information and the user interface are subject to change.

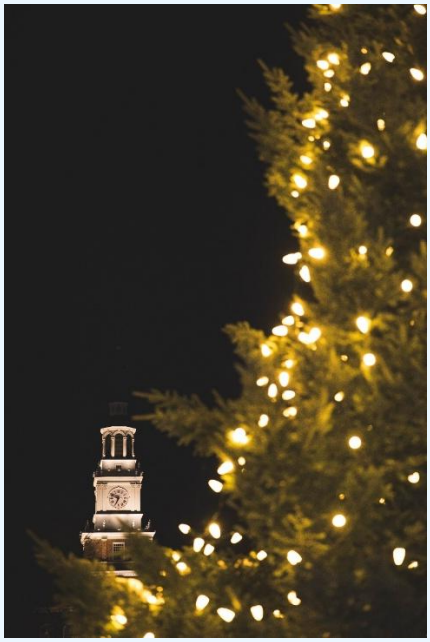
Sophomore Major Declaration:



Students in the class of 2028 may now officially declare a major in DartHub. This exciting milestone in their academic career provides several benefits once their major is declared, such as course priority during course election, faculty advisors, and the ability to use the D-Plan petition to change their enrollment pattern.

Students who have declared their major can use DartWorks Degree Audit to monitor their progress towards graduation. Most majors and a growing list of minors are supported in the Degree Audit. For more details, refer to the DartWorks guide.

The deadline to declare a major is April 9. Students have the flexibility to change, modify, or add a major/minor after the deadline. Be sure to consult your faculty advisor and for more information, visit the Registrar's website.

Transfer Term Application Deadline:

The 2026 spring transfer term application deadline is March 3, 2026. Visit the Non-Dartmouth Study Away page on the Registrar's website, and Off-Campus Activities in the ORC/Catalog for more information about the transfer term policy.

Website Refresh:

The Arts and Sciences Registrar's Office, in partnership with Web Services, is hard at work on the new website. This is a reminder that once the new website goes live bookmarks and links need to be updated. A formal announcement will be made closer to the launch date.

Did you know… Answer:

(A) Winter Carnival is a Hollywood film from 1939 inspired by Dartmouth's own winter carnival. Some scenes were even filmed on campus.
