Take Back the Night Poster Making
April 16, 3:00-5:00pm at Kappa Delta Epsilon

Take Back the Night
April 18, 5:00-7:30pm on Collis Patio
The rally, first conceived in order to reclaim the right to move freely without sexual harassment and/or assault, day or night, is an opportunity for the men and women to come together to protest all forms of violence. The march will culminate in a vigil, a more improvisational form of Speak Out, during which time any and all members of the march can share their experiences and feelings having to due with assault.

Clothesline Project T-Shirt Making
April 19, 4:00-6:00pm at Sigma Delta
The Clothesline Project (currently displayed in Collis) was established in 1990 in order to take sexual abuse “off the backs” of survivors and into the sight and mind of the community. Each T-Shirt represents an individual’s unique experience with sexual assault. The act of hanging up the shirts works to raise awareness in the community, help survivors heal, and support survivors who are still finding their voices.

“It happens to us as well”
April 24, 4:00pm in Collis 101
The aim of this discussion is to explore unique issues of sexual assault as they pertain to the LGBTQ communities. We will be talking about gender roles and stereotypes within these communities as well as available resources. This event is open to all Dartmouth Students, LGBTQ and Allies alike.
Sponsored by: PRIDE, Sexual Assault Awareness Month, and the Men's Project

Bringing in the Bystander
April 25th and 30th 3:00-5:00pm/4:00-6:00 Location TBA
This 2hr workshop (full participation required) is a condensed version of the original program that uses a community of responsibility model to teach bystanders how to intervene safely and effectively. Its main message is that “Everyone in the community has a role to play in ending sexual violence.” The curriculum approaches both women and men as potential bystanders or witnesses to risky behaviors related to sexual violence around them via active learning and participation.
