The Men’s Project Fellow
Center for Gender and Student Engagement
Dartmouth College

The Men’s Project seeks to bring together resources and to engage members of the Dartmouth community in exploring, examining, and responding to contemporary men’s issues. The CGSE Men's Project Fellow will develop, implement, and evaluate a singular project or series of programs to meet this goal.

Past projects include: the White Ribbon Campaign; a series of discussions on men’s health, sexuality, and violence; and, advocacy work with LGBTQ communities.

Potential areas of interest for the 2014-2015 academic year include:

- Male sexualities and sexual expression.
- Men’s appreciation for (vs. co-optation of) identities and cultures.
- All-male spaces and gender expectations.
- Male survivors of sexual assault.
- Mentoring male youth.
- Black and brown men and American politics (ex. Ferguson, My Brother’s Keeper)
- Nationalism, masculinity, and sport.
- Religion, militarism, and masculinity in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

To apply to be a Men’s Project Fellow please submit the following:

1. A detailed description of the proposed idea and how it addresses the Men's Project goals outlined above.
2. The intended audience for the proposed idea and the needs of that audience as they relate to the goals of the Men's Project.
3. At least one specific outcome you hope to address through the proposed idea as it relates to the goals of the Men's Project and an assessment plan for measuring that outcome. (ex. Increased awareness, increased understanding, knowledge of particular concepts, etc.)
4. A detailed budget and breakdown of expected costs for the proposed idea.
5. A comprehensive timeline for the proposed idea from start to finish.
