Many survivors of sexual/intimate partner violence want to become active in supporting the healing process of other survivors. While those who are survivors of violence are welcome to take part in the training (and often serve as great assets and supports when they have progressed through their own healing) SAPA training can often be triggering, destabilizing or inappropriate for survivors depending on where they are in their recovery process. You must be able to demonstrate that you have come to a stable place in your own healing to ensure your own safety and the safety of those you will be supporting.

1. Describe your interest in becoming a SAPA and supporting members of the Dartmouth community in areas of gender and sexually based violence?

2. What do you hope to gain from participating in this training and going on to become a SAPA?

3. In your opinion, how does sexual violence/relationship violence/stalking impact our campus community?

4. What strategies do you intend to employ in order to maintain the confidentiality and privacy of your peers? What obstacles do you imagine facing in this area?

5. Write about a time when you have provided support to a friend or a peer- this can be any issue, not exclusively around sexual and gendered violence. (Please do not include identifying information in this answer).

6. Being a SAPA means being seen has some who cares about these issues and who takes action in the movement to end sexual violence at Dartmouth. Please discuss any strategies or philosophies you use when engaging with your peers particularly those may strongly disagree with the information you're providing.

7. Please include any other information about yourself that you would like us to know as we consider your SAPA application.
