

Award Winning Translator Edith Grossman Presents:

“TRANSLATING CERVANTES”

Edith Grossman is one of the most important translators of Latin American and Spanish fiction of our times. Her numerous publications include works of Nobel laureate Gabriel García Márquez, Carlos Fuentes, Mario Vargas Llosa, Mayra Montero, Carmen Laforet and Miguel de Cervantes. Grossman received high acclaim for her 2003 translation of “Don Quixote” and is currently working on Spanish Golden Age poet Luis de Góngora’s “Sonnets”.

May 13, 2009 4:00pm 041 Haldeman

*Sponsored by the Dept. of Spanish & Portuguese
Co-Sponsored by The Leslie Center for the Humanities, The Dickey Center for International Understanding, and the Comparative Literature and LALACS Programs*