Re: Award for Distinguished Lecturer

The Dean of Faculty Office will award a $5,000 cash award to a distinguished lecturer or senior lecturer who has taught at Dartmouth for five years or more of continuous service at a level of at least half-time. The award may be used as additional compensation or to support professional travel or research. Individuals who wish to be considered for this award should submit a proposal on their research to Janet Terp, Office of the Dean of Faculty, HB 6045, by January 16, 2012. The recipient will be notified during the winter term. These awards are limited and will be competitive. No more than one will be awarded annually.
