Notes:

1. Except for a concentration on literary history, the same course(s) may satisfy the course group requirement(s) and serve in the concentration area.
2. In the case of a genre concentration, the genre should be specified.
3. One course must be a special topics course (60-69).
4. One course must be an advanced seminar (70-75, 85) or one term of English 98 to satisfy the culminating experience requirement. This course cannot also satisfy any course group requirement. It may be part of the concentration area.
5. Two substitute courses are permitted within the major. One of those courses may be part of the concentration area. Normally, substitute courses cannot satisfy the Course Group requirement.
6. Transfer credits normally cannot be used in the major.
