

Welcome to Dartmouth!

The Campus and Community Resource Guide has been developed as a demonstration of Dartmouth's commitment to recruiting a diverse and talented work force.

This Guide includes employees from the Dartmouth community willing to speak informally and confidentially with you regarding interests and/or questions you have about Dartmouth and the Upper Valley Community that might not be addressed in the formal search process. The employees listed in this Guide represent a broad range of interests and activities that include, but are not limited to, the diversity of the community, child care resources, and dual career couple issues. The Guide also includes a listing of offices on campus that focus on similar issues. In the back of the Guide we have listed a number of community organizations that also represent a broad range of interests. While we tried to be inclusive of the community resources, we have only listed those individuals and organizations that responded to our request for information. Please note: we are not endorsing these organizations; this is for informational purposes only.

Please feel free to contact any one listed to discuss aspects of Dartmouth and the Upper Valley Community that are of interest to you. Work telephone numbers are listed, and you may wish to arrange for an appointment while you are in Hanover.

If you have additional questions, please contact the Office of Institutional Diversity & Equity at (603) 646-3197.
