Permission to Publish Contract

The Dartmouth College Library grants permission to reproduce or publish materials from its collections in its capacity as owner of the physical property. In all instances, it is the researcher's responsibility to obtain permission from the holders of any rights in material being quoted, reproduced or published. Please complete and sign the form below and return it to Rauner Special Collections Library. The counter-signed form will be mailed back to you granting permission.

Subject to the following conditions, I/we request permission to reproduce materials from the archival, manuscript (non-book) collections of the Rauner Special Collections, listed below. Similar use of printed books does not usually require specific permission, though copyright laws may apply. A few printed books, however, particularly those with extensive manuscript annotations are placed under archival/manuscript rules.

Conditions

1. Credit line for all materials: "Courtesy of Dartmouth College Library." This credit must be included for each reproduced image or in each footnote or endnote reference. Additional credits may be necessary if so requested by donors.
2. Permission is granted for one-time use only. Materials may not be reused without the written permission of the appropriate agent of Rauner Special Collections or other appointed agent of the College.
3. Dartmouth College reserves the right to make charges for the use of materials as it deems appropriate in any individual case.
4. This document is not a copyright permission or license. Dartmouth College does not claim to control the rights to all the materials in its collections. The publishing party assumes all responsibility for clearing reproduction rights and for any infringement to any U.S. Copyright Laws.
5. If permission is granted for the publishing party to photograph or scan any visual materials in the Rauner Special Collections, all such negative, positive, or digital reproduction must be returned to Rauner Special Collections or destroyed after use.

I/we herewith agree to the conditions specified above.
