Here is a two year, post-graduate position in a very significant arena—child welfare, in NYC—that might be of interest to a graduating Nathan Smith Society student.

Fostering Change hires recent college grads for two year positions to make a positive effect in the NYC social welfare system for children. The first website is the site for the organization as a whole. The second is about their “Children’s Corps,” the program that works with college grads.

http://fosteringchangeforchildren.org/index.php/site/mission

http://fosteringchangeforchildren.org/index.php/CC  (need to scroll down the page to see the text)