Important information:

Students who request exemption from the required summer term in residence (R-Term) are subject to the following regulations:

• The student must be in residence (R-term), paying tuition and taking a regular course load in all of the twelve F/W/S terms of the four undergraduate years at Dartmouth.
• During each of these twelve terms the student will participate in official intercollegiate athletic competition. Terms that do not contain actual competition throughout may nonetheless serve, but those in which there is no official intercollegiate competition during the weeks of classes will not.
• A student who receives the exemption but is then unable to fulfill the requirements above must notify the Registrar, who will reassess the exemption and may be obligated to withdraw it.
