Acknowledgement of Inherent Risks

The participant in any program, event or other sponsored activity does so with the understanding that skiing and snowboarding are inherently hazardous activities. Hazards, both natural and man-made, such as, but not limited to; bare spots, ice, changing snow, bumps, sticks, stumps, trees and other participants, exist in skiing. The participant accepts full responsibility for recognizing such hazards, whether marked or unmarked, and realizes that falls and collisions are common and that injuries can result. The participant accepts the hazards of the sport and the danger of injury incident thereto, including those caused by the negligence and carelessness of other skiers. Be aware that snowmaking and vehicular traffic may be encountered at any time. All tickets may be revoked by the management at any time without refund and are nontransferable.

“Know Your Responsibility Code”

As a participant, I realize and accept the inherent risks associated with it.
