2003 Dartmouth Lacrosse

The No. 15 Dartmouth men's lacrosse team will make its first NCAA appearance when the Big Green travels to face the defending national champions, Syracuse, on Sunday, May 11 in the Carrier Dome.

Syracuse holds an 18-4 series lead, but this will be the first meeting between these two schools since 1991.

Under the guidance of head coach Rick Sowell, the Dartmouth men (11-2, 5-1 Ivy) completed an unprecedented turnaround, becoming the first Ivy League men's lacrosse team to go from last to first in one season. The Big Green finished in a three-way tie with Cornell and Princeton for the league title, but won the automatic bid in a blind draw on Saturday night.

The 11 wins also tied a school record and were the most since 1948. Freshman Jamie Coffin leads the squad in scoring with 17 goals and 18 assists, while sophomore Ben Grinnell and Tom Daniels are next in line with 32 points. Sophomore Andrew Goldstein has been the difference in net, as the 5-10 sophomore ranks fifth in the nation with a 6.64 GAA.

The Orangemen earned an NCAA berth for the 21st consecutive year, thanks to their 8-5 regular-season record, strength of schedule and victory against No. 1-ranked Johns Hopkins on March 15.

Carr Wins Two Rings In One Season
Talk about a great year. Senior Doug Carr has had one that he'll never forget. Carr was a part of two Ivy championship teams at Dartmouth this season — winning a ring as a goalie on the soccer team, and as a defender on the lacrosse team. A product of Ridgewood High School, Carr, who played one year at goalie back in eighth grade, was named the Ivy League rookie of the year after guiding the men’s soccer team to its first title since 1991. In lacrosse, Carr played in 13 games and helped Dartmouth to its first championship since 1965.

Coffin Returns Versus Harvard
Freshman sensation Jamie Coffin, who missed three games with an injury, returned to the lineup for the first time against Harvard. Coffin leads the Big Green in scoring with 35 points (17g-18a) and has been a catalyst in the Big Green’s recent turnaround. He tallied 10 points versus Quinnipiac, becoming the first Dartmouth lacrosse player to score 10 or more points in a game since Brian Merritt ’97 poured in 11 points (5g, 6a) against Vermont on April 23, 1997.

Last To First
The Dartmouth lacrosse squad did something no other Ivy team has ever accomplished — going from last to first. Last season, the Big Green finished 0-6 in the league and won just three Ivy games in the last four years, prior to this season. This year, the Big Green posted a remarkable 5-1 record with a win over then-No. 2 Princeton on April 26.

11 Wins Ties School Mark
The 2003 squad became just the second team in school history to reach 11 wins in a season, joining the 1948 team that finished 11-3. The Big Green had only won 12 matches during the last two seasons. The five Ivy wins ties the school record for conference wins of five, which tied the 1965 team that ironically won the school’s last Ivy League title.

Roslyn Closes In
Senior Scott Roslyn has enjoyed a great career and gets to cap it off with the school’s first-ever NCAA tournament bid. The 5-11 attacker is the leading active scorer with 67 goals and also owns 89 career points. Roslyn’s 67 goals are the 14th-most in school history and he is one point shy of becoming just the 22nd men’s lacrosse player to score 90 points in a career.

Goldstein Fifth In NCAA in GAA
A big reason for the Big Green’s turnaround must be attributed to the play of sophomore Andrew Goldstein in the net. Goldstein ranks fifth in the NCAA with a stellar 6.64 GAA. In 13 games, Goldstein has allowed just 84 goals, limiting Harvard to four in Friday night’s 5-4 win. He also allowed a season-low three tallies versus Vermont on March 8 and five in wins over Sacred Heart, Lehigh and Penn. In the upset win over No. 2 Princeton, he allowed just six Tiger markers and recorded 17 saves.

Turnaround

Head coach Rick Sowell thought heading into the 2003 season that his team would be much-improved. Little did he know he'd be taking his team to the NCAA Tournament. In his first four seasons, Sowell guided Dartmouth to a 22-32 record, including a 3-21 Ivy League record. That has all changed this season, as the Big Green went 11-2 and were crowned champions of the Ivy League.

Offensive Explosion

The Big Green has enjoyed one of its finest offensive seasons. Dartmouth has four 30-point scorers for the first time since 1994. Freshman Jamie Coffin, despite missing three games with an injury, leads the team with 35 points. Junior Tom Daniels and sophomore Ben Grinnell are tied with 32 points and senior Scott Roslyn has 31.

Offensive Explosion- Part 2

Through 13 games, the Big Green is averaging 9.7 goals per game and has tallied 127 so far this season. The 127 markers are the most since the 1998 team potted 149.

Taking Care of The Penalties

The Big Green averages 4.8 penalties per game and has had 46:00 in infractions. Dartmouth has done an outstanding job of killing those penalties, as the Big Green has allowed just 14 man-up goals.

Stingy Defense

Head coach Rick Sowell stressed to his team the importance of defense this season, and it's certainly paid off. The Big Green has allowed just 93 goals this season (7.1 gpg), which is the lowest total since the 1983 team yielded 98 in 12 games. Dartmouth has held five opponents to five goals or less.

PRINCETON, N.J. - Tom Daniels tallied four goals and two assists, and Andrew Goldstein recorded 17 saves as the Dartmouth men's lacrosse team pulled off one of the greatest upsets in school history by stunning No. 2 ranked Princeton, 13-6, at the Class of 1952 Field in Princeton, N.J.

The Big Green will go for at least a share of only its third league crown ever, taking on Harvard on Friday night at Scully-Fahey Field, while the Tigers host Brown next Saturday.

The win over the Tigers snapped a 14-game losing streak to Princeton dating back to 1988, and was only Dartmouth's seventh loss in the 51 previous meetings. The victory was also just the second road win at Princeton, and the first since an 8-5 victory in 1956.

The 10 wins are the most for the Big Green since 1994 and its four league wins are tops since 1982.

Besides Daniels' four markers, Ben Grinnell added three goals and an assist, while Ryan Danehy and Scott Roslyn scored twice.

Princeton scored first, but Grinnell tied the score at 1-1, and Tom Daniels added two in the first as Dartmouth built a 3-1 lead after one, and never trailed again.

Goldstein had four saves in the first two periods as the Big Green built a 6-2 lead at the break. The Tigers would get no closer than three in the second half.

After the teams traded single tallies in the third period, Dartmouth exploded for six markers in the final frame, including two by Ryan Danehy.

HANOVER, N.H. -- The Dartmouth men’s lacrosse team won a share of its third Ivy League title when the Big Green defeated Harvard, 5-4, in front of 2,100 fans at Scully-Fahey Field.

The 11 wins are the most since 1948 and only the second time in school history that a men’s lacrosse team reached that win total. The five Ivy wins also ties a school record, matching the 1965 team’s 5-1 mark.

The win moves the Big Green into a first-place tie with Cornell (8-4, 5-1) as Ivy League champions. Dartmouth, now 11-2, 5-1 Ivy, must await the outcome of Saturday’s Princeton-Brown game. If the Tigers (9-3, 4-1) win, the league’s executive director will conduct a draw on Saturday at 7:00 p.m. to break the three-way tie for the conference’s automatic bid. If Princeton loses, Cornell will win the automatic bid based on its 13-5 win over the Big Green earlier this season.

Prior to the game, Head coach Rick Sowell showed the team the video from the USA’s thrilling 1980 gold medal hockey season where the American shocked the Russians and then had to defeat Finland for the gold medal. Sowell compared that 1980 season to his 2003 lacrosse team that shocked No. 2 Princeton last week and had to finish it off tonight against Harvard.

Sophomore Ben Grinnell scored twice, including the eventual go-ahead goal, and freshman Brad Heritage potted a pair, while senior Casey Burlage added a pair of assists.

The Big Green took its first lead since the first period when Grinnell tallied his second goal of the contest off a pass from Burlage with 13:37 remaining in the game to put Dartmouth ahead, 4-3.

Heritage gave the Big Green a 5-3 lead when he broke in free from the right side and bounced a shot past Jake McKenna.

Harvard made the final moments tense when McBride notched his third goal of the contest with 1:23 remaining to make it a one-goal game, 5-4.

But that’s all Harvard would get as the Big Green’s defense limited the Crimson to just one shot attempt in the final minute.

In a fast moving first period that saw a combined seven shots, the Big Green struck first when Grinnell when he rifled a shot past Jake McKenna with 10:23 left in the first quarter.

The second quarter belonged to the Crimson, which scored three times. Harvard evened the game with 11:52 remaining when Mike McBride scooped up a rebound and fired a shot from five feet away.

McBride notched his second of the game with 7:24 left in the second quarter, but sen-
