The Dartmouth Cemetery

My interest in the Dartmouth Cemetery was first aroused when, as a Freshman in Dartmouth College, I wandered through the cemetery in 1898 - more than fifty years ago.

When, in March, 1948, I became a member of the Board of Selectmen, the supervision of the cemeteries was assigned to me. I was soon impressed by the fact that, when inquiries were made at the office regarding burials in the Dartmouth Cemetery, the answer could be found only by round-about methods, if indeed at all. Hence it seemed that a card index of all known burials in the cemetery would be of value.

In setting about the work, it seemed that, if the work was to be done effectively, all inscriptions should be read. It soon became evident that the charts of the cemetery - the one made in 1865; the other in 1911 - were antiquated since lots in appreciable numbers have been graded and occupied since the latter date.

As the reading of inscriptions on stones and monuments proceeded, it was found that many inscriptions could be read only with difficulty (especially was this true of the coarse granite stones which came into use following the iron-bearing slate); surface layers on some of the oldest slate slabs had long since split away carrying their inscriptions with them; stones which were noted in earlier records have disappeared. Therefore, it seemed that in years to come, a diagram of each lot, showing the relative position of monuments and stones and inscriptions which they bear, might be of value.

For the reasons mentioned above, the work has assumed greater proportions than was originally intended and four years have passed since it was begun. It is now completed to date. But "completion" is an erroneous term. Burials were made but never recorded and stones were never placed or, if they were, time, over a period of one hundred and eighty years, has wrought its changes and the stones have disappeared. It seems reasonable to assume that the burials in four lots in the cemetery will never be known. Also, here and there are unmarked graves whose occupants I have been unable to identify. Those who might have remembered and who could have contributed valuable information have, in turn, passed on.

A new chart of the cemetery has been completed. It was duplicated by Professor Fred F. Parker in February, 1950 and copies of it are on file in the office of the Selectmen.

The Dartmouth Cemetery Books 1 - 6

The 12-acre area of the Dartmouth Cemetery contains 410 lots. The books include diagrams of these lots together with inscriptions on stones and monuments. The purpose has been to reproduce inscriptions as they are. For this reason, errors though there may be, phonetic spelling and capitalization of the stone cutter, dates and age are as they appear on the stones.

Card Index. The card index which should accompany the books was compiled with a quite different aim in mind. Many monuments and stones bear only the date of death; some record age, others do not; some record only the year of birth and death. To such extent as possible, complete dates of birth, death and age have been brought together in the card index.

For this work I have turned to sources noted below. Undoubtedly, more information could have been unearthed had time allowed.

1. Inscriptions on stones and monuments.
2. Dartmouth Cemetery Association Book I. 18 Selections from the 1870-1871
3. Genealogy compiled by Gilman DuBois Frost.
4. Conversation and correspondence with families and relatives of deceased.
5. Vital statistics of Hanover and other towns.
6. William Worthington Dewey; "List of deaths in the vicinity of Dartmouth College including likewise the Hamlet usually called Greensborough. From A. D., 1769 to the last date on the Register".
7. John Richards; "Records of Deaths, Interments and Inscriptions 1771 - 1858. In 1858 under the name of Cemetery Records
8. Asa Wright Fellows; "Cemetery Records".
9. Much valuable information has been contributed by Albert W. Conner, faithful servant of the Town for 45 years (1904 - 1949) as Sexton and by Percy E. Conner who worked with his father in the cemetery for many years and who took his father's place in 1949 when his father resigned.

As of this date, 1814 entries have been made in the card index. The number will be increased appreciably since many more interments are yet to be made in the cemetery.

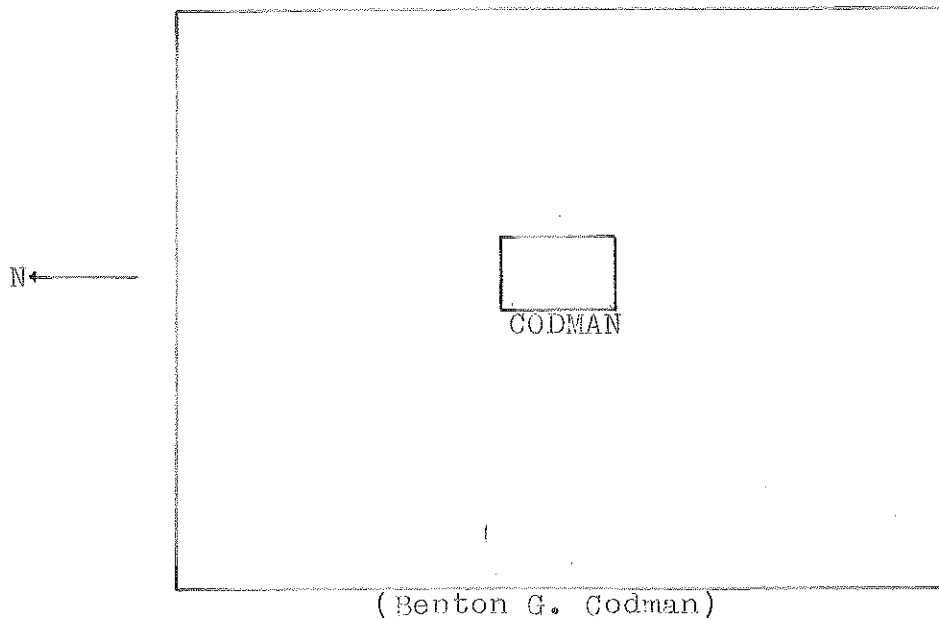

Errors have been found in almost every source of reference. Stones are no exception. Dates and age found in the Town records do not always agree with those recorded on the stones nor do those recorded in Frost's Genealogy agree with those from other sources. Errors are to be found also in the Dartmouth Cemetery Association Book I.

By the same token, doubtless errors will be found in my work. For such errors, I alone am responsible and I can only hope that by due care in such matters as rereading all inscriptions and in attempting to reconcile differences in source material, some errors which might have appeared have been eliminated.

There is no record of him at the Hospital, the Town Clerk's office at White River Junction nor the Dept. of Vital Statistics at Concord. Mr. Conner states that he was buried by the American Woodsmen. Since Cocroft was a veteran, Mr. Conner wrote Washington asking if they would provide a stone. They replied that they could not since he was a deserter. As of Jan. 19, 1951, the Veterans' Bureau at Washington wrote me that they could give me no information from such data as I gave them.

Note;

For some time prior to Henry Teague's death, he concerned himself with the selection of a burial place for himself in the Dartmouth Cemetery. He finally decided upon a one-grave lot (No. 81A) and purchased it December 16, 1947.

Mr. Teague died in Whitefield, N.H., October 2, 1952. Services were held in Littleton and, for whatever reason, burial was in Southwest Harbor, Maine, near his childhood home.

Note;

Under date of September 4, 1953, this lot was sold to Mrs. Florence Verriest .

November 30, 1955.

President John Sloan Dickey,
Dartmouth College,
Hanover, New Hampshire,

Dear Mr. Dickey;

May I call to your attention a matter that has been in my mind for some time.

During the summer of 1954, the College replaced the broken tablestone of Mary Brinsmead Wheelock in the Wheelock lot of the Dartmouth Cemetery.

When the tablestone and supporting stones were removed, a slate stone with inscriptions was found at the ground level. Also a companion stone was found under the tablestone of Eleazar Wheelock. The two stones were removed to the College storehouse.

Recently, I went to the storehouse to copy the inscriptions. The stones lie on the floor with the inscribed surfaces uppermost and are surrounded by all kinds of storage material. Stored on the stones were: a crated object so heavy that two men were needed to remove it; a 25 pound pail seemingly of roofing cement and a large, heavy metal fan.

In removing the objects, the men walked on the stones as freely as on the floor. A few days later, thinking that I had misread a date, I returned to find that the same objects had been placed back on the stones.

Already chips are broken away from the inscribed surfaces and, at two spots, the lettering is no longer readable. I predict that, in the end, their destination will be the junk pile.

While I have not as yet unearthed sufficient evidence, I am of the belief that these are the stones placed by John Wheelock in 1810. In any case, these stones were placed as a memorial to Mary Brinsmead and Eleazar Wheelock and were never intended for display in museums or similar places.

yes.
see Ribley 1859.

It is my opinion as well as that of others with whom I have talked that the only place where these stones should be lodged is the place where they were found. It would seem that, if a recent history of these stones were to be written, it might be given the title of Respectable Vandalism.

Sincerely yours,

Arthur H. Chivers.

December 7, 1955

Mr. Arthur H. Chivers
Meriden
New Hampshire:

Dear Mr. Chivers:

This will acknowledge your letter of November 30, 1955 to President Dickey in regard to the Wheelock stones.

I was very distressed to hear of the way these grave-stones were being kept at the storehouse, and I immediately took steps to have the situation corrected. It was quite inexcusable the way they were being handled and it was contrary to the instructions I had given last spring at the time they were taken out of the ground.

Our purpose in taking them out was to see if the "ancient" tablestones could be preserved in a manner so that they could still be seen. We have obtained estimates on a new type of case which would have the modern tablestone, or perhaps the more recent one; on top exposed to the weather very much as at present. Then there would be a brass case on the side which would have the ancient stones under bulletproof glass which would enable them to be seen by anyone visiting the cemetery.

Apparently this was a very difficult fabrication job, and the total cost comes to around $1,700. I would appreciate your reaction as to whether you think an expenditure of this size for this purpose is justified, or whether it would be better to follow your own suggestion, that the stones be put back where they were found. Would you be good enough to let me know what your opinion is on this subject?

Sincerely yours,

John F. Meck.

December 10, 1955.

Mr. John F. Meck,
Dartmouth College,
Hanover, New Hampshire,

Dear Mr. Meck;

It was with some hesitation that I wrote regarding the Wheelock stones and for two reasons: one that it might seem a trivial matter for those of you who carry weightier problems; the other that, having worked through a period of years on the cemetery records, I may be in danger of slipping over from sentiment to sentimentality, which I would be the first to avoid.

You may be sure, therefore, that I deeply appreciated your cordial reply to my "memorandum" of November 30.

I have given much thought to the placement of the stones and, though it would be my hope that they might be returned to the cemetery, it would be most fortunate if they could be so placed that they could be seen.

Your suggestion that the stones be placed in a case is most interesting and would seem to solve the problem in the ideal way. If I understand correctly, one stone would remain as now, a tablestone and the other would be substituted for the supporting stone on one side.

It does seem that the cost is excessive but, after all, the project centers in the founding family of the College. I think those less familiar with the old burying ground would be surprised to learn of the number of people who visit it during the summer. And many of the visitors inquire for, or search out, the Wheelock lot.

I think the College was very generous in replacing the broken tablestone of Maria Wheelock during the past summer.

If I can be helpful in any way, please do not hesitate to let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Arthur H. Chivers.

Re: Wheelock Gravestones

Dear Mr. Chivers:

In Mr. Meck's absence on an extended business trip, I wish to acknowledge your thoughtful letter of December 10, 1955.

We agree with you that, if the necessary funds can be made available, construction of the permanent case outlined in Mr. Meck's letter would seem to be the ideal manner in which to preserve and display these stones.

Thank you again for your informative letter, which I will bring to Mr. Meck's attention upon his return.

Sincerely yours,
Paul F. Young,
Assistant to the Treasurer

PFY; rc

See also memorandum on file written by Mr. Edward Connery Lathem to Mr. Meck under date of May 29, 1954.

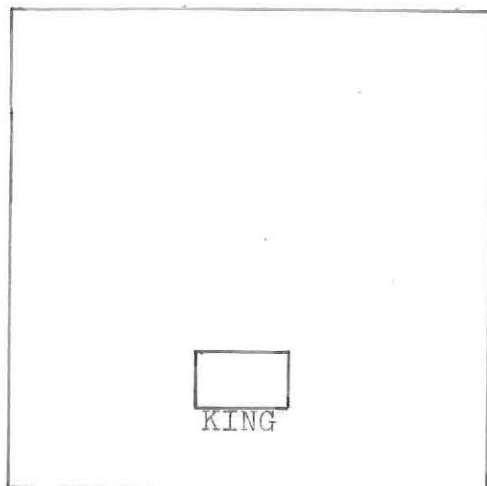

Note; Mr. Percy Conner (caretaker of the cemetery) received notice in June, 1957 that the Wheelock stones would be put back.

They were placed as in the original position, somewhat beneath the ground level. Being of greater dimensions than those of the marble enclosure, they project beyond the boundaries of the enclosure.

"Here endeth the chapter" on the Wheelock stones.

Lot No. 167

(George F. Kibling)

Monument (small spire).
Name on west face.

Note; This lot presents difficulties due in part to the nature of the inscriptions and in part to the lack of records.

Stones 1 and 8 are well inscribed.

Stone 2. Since George F. Kibling was twice married, Harriet may be one of his wives. There is no certain record of her.

Stones 3 and 4. I believe these to be George W. and Sarah Fisher Kibling (father & mother of George F. Kibling).

Stones 5 and 6. I searched the vital statistics in the Town Clerk's office in Norwich and found data for these and others.

Stone 7. I believe this to be Ida Greenleaf Kibling wife of George F. Kibling).

With these assumptions, the record would be;

Lot No. 171

Stone 1 (very small)

Inscript. on

West face; M. P. O.

Note; Probably this is;

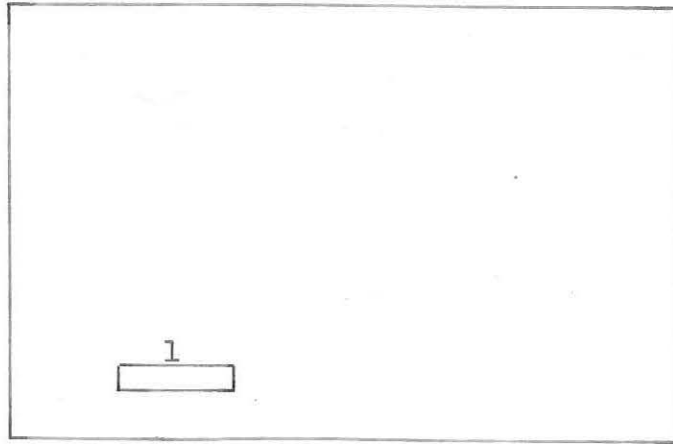

Mary Porter Olcott
Dau. of Mills & Sarah Porter Olcott
b. Dec. 6, 1812
d. Mar. 10, 1813
Ae. 3 mos., 4 days.

Note; the above assumption may be wrong
since there is a stone for Mary Porter Olcott with the same dates in lot No. 80.

Since the above notes were made,
I have found a statement in Richard's
Cemetery Notes that the body of Mary Porter Olcott was removed to the family lot (meaning, I suppose, lot No. 171).
If this was done, it is difficult to explain why her stone was left in lot No. 80 rather than moving it to lot No. 171.

Note; Seemingly, I have made every effort to obtain records for burials in this lot. As indicated on the preceeding page, there are inscriptions on the mounment only for Joseph and Mary D. At my request, Irving Fountain has taken the matter up with various members of the Fountain families and obtained the relationships given below but no dates. In recording those below (recorded also in Book I) I have used the dates which appear there. However, some dates used in Book I are for burial, others for death.

 d. 1930. Ae. 1 yr.

Note;

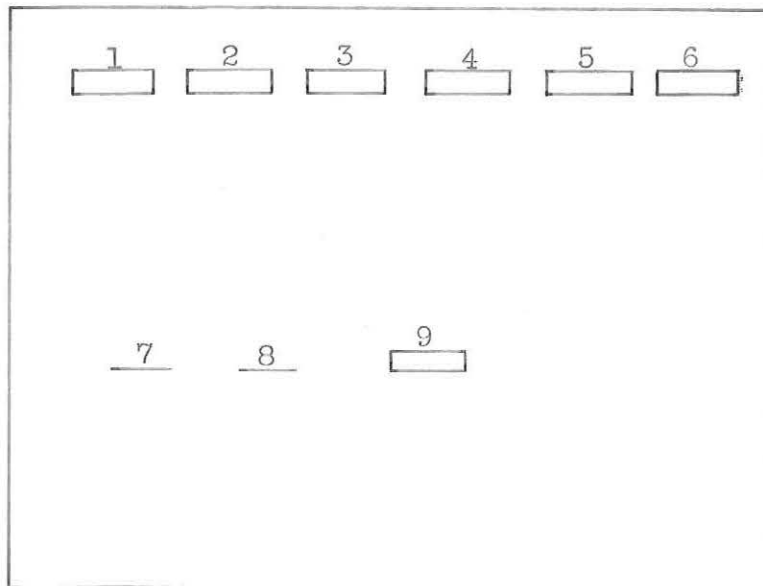

I obtained dates of the Borry children at the Town Clerk's office at Norwich. I visited Vincent and Etta Borry (father and mother) who are now living on Hanover St., Lebanon. The daughter's name is Rita, not Doris Rita. Norman, not Marion, was their son. Mrs. Borry stated that Rita and Norman are the only Borrys buried in the cemetery, and the Town Clerk's records contain only Rita and Norman. The names as entered in Book I are evidently in error.
