

Rosemary Edzie is a Senior Associate Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations. In this capacity, she supports faculty from the humanities, social sciences, environmental sciences, and interdisciplinary initiatives. Prior to joining Dartmouth College, Rosemary worked with the University of Nebraska Foundation, as the director of foundation relations and director of development for the Buffett Early Childhood Institute. Previously, Rosemary served as assistant director of operations for the Durham School of Architectural Engineering and Construction at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and affiliate director for Nebraska's Project Lead the Way, a state-level program focused on enhancing STEM education for K-12 students. Rosemary holds a doctorate in education administration from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, a master's degree in education, leadership, and social policy from Loyola University, and a bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Massachusetts Amherst.