Postdoctoral Fellowship in Understanding Dynamic and Multi-scale Systems	James S. McDonnell Foundation	$200,000	For scholarship and research directed toward the development of theoretical and mathematical tools contributing to the science of complex, adaptive, nonlinear systems. It is anticipated that research funded in this program will address issues in fields such as biology, biodiversity, climate, demography, epidemiology, technological change, economic development, governance, or computation. While the program's emphasis is on the development and application of theoretical models used in these research fields and not on particular fields per se, JSMF is particularly interested in projects attempting to apply complex systems approaches to meaningful problems. Proposals attempting to apply complex system tools and models to problems where such approaches are not yet considered usual or mainstream (for example, differentiating normal physiology from disease) are encouraged. Eligibility: Ph.D. students within 18 months of anticipated completion of graduate training.	06/11/21
Career Development Bridge Funding Award: K Supplement	Rheumatology Research Foundation	$100,000	Support to continue conducting research while reapplying for an NIH or VA career development award; applicants must have a funding decision in order to apply.
