Cashless/Checkless Initiatives

Electronic payment processes from and to Dartmouth

- Paperless processing improves efficiency for all
- Reduces cash and check-handling
- Improves processing time
- More traceable
- Saves time and money
Student Digital Payments

In partnership with J.P. Morgan Chase, digital payments will be the default method for paying students for Payment Request and Student Prize & Award eForms.

For Students:

- Simple one-time registration with J.P. Morgan to provide preferences for obtaining payment
- Option to have direct deposit to their U.S. bank via Zelle or ACH
- Payment notification from J.P. Morgan to accept payment
- Payment is issued either same or next day, depending on preferences
- Student may decline electronic payment and a check will be issued in 14 days from J.P. Morgan

For Departments:

- No change to current process
- Check pick-up is still available, when necessary, but discouraged
- Wire transfers are still available and encouraged for students with foreign bank accounts
- Legal mailing address and citizenship still required for tax purposes
- Ask that you assist us in making students aware of the digital payment option

System Access Form in Agiloft

Coming in May
The new System Access Form will streamline and systemize the process for requesting employee access for Financial and HR systems and setting signature authority for approving contracts, purchase requisitions, and invoices.

Benefits:
• System Access Visibility
• Automate Notifications
• Automate Workflow
• Automate Reporting
• Improve Efficiency
• Improve Experience
IRA to the Cloud

The data warehouse and the IRA reporting system are moving to the cloud. So, what does that mean?

1. ITC might ask you to do some light testing.
2. There will be two URLs by which to access production data and reporting.
   a) ira.dartmouth.edu (just like today)
   b) ira-oac.dartmouth.edu (version of IRA in the cloud)
3. The New IRA
   a) Will look pretty much like the old IRA
   b) But will have additional capabilities

We will be running both IRA and IRA-in-the-cloud in parallel for several months until we are confident the cloud is working properly. We hope to have 90% of users using the cloud version by mid-June and being able to shut off the current (on-premises) version in mid-August.
Next Gen: New Student Employment System
