Agiloft Contract Management System Counts

June 2021 – February 2022

[Bar chart showing contract counts]

Source: Agiloft Contract Management System Count, as of February 11*

Effective January, after a 6-month pilot and soft launch, all contracts for the purchase of goods or services are now to be submitted into the Agiloft Contract Management System. In January alone, nearly 100 contract requests were submitted for review and management through the system. As of February 11, there are already more than 60 new contract requests submitted. We are already seeing improvements to contract management and opportunities to leverage the data. Go to the Contract Management webpage for more information on contracting for the purchase of good or services.

Year End Paid-Time Off

Please be aware that for the purposes of paid time off (personal time and vacation time) for hourly employees, the year ends on Saturday, June 18, 2022, and the new year begins on Sunday, June 19, 2022 (the beginning of the first pay period that includes July 1). Thus, any remaining vacation time that hourly employees intend to take in this year should be used by Saturday, June 18, 2022. Employees may automatically carry over up to five days of unused personal time into the next year.

Sprintax for Dartmouth’s International Employees & Students

Sprintax Effective January 1, 2022, the Dartmouth Payroll Office has partnered with Sprintax Calculus, a leader in tax treaty benefits eligibility software, to ensure Dartmouth College’s international faculty, staff, and students remain compliant with IRS regulations. The system will aid employees in determining their residency status and tax treaty benefit entitlements, as well as filing their tax returns (only available to non-residents).

All international faculty, staff, or students should expect to receive an activation email from Sprintax to create a profile through their secure platform to begin utilizing the many tools and resources available. For more information, go to the Payroll’s Sprintax FAQ page on the Finance website.

Coming Soon, U.S. Bank Focus Card

Effective March 1, 2022, Dartmouth is partnering with U.S. Bank to provide the U.S. Bank Focus Card. This is a Visa® prepaid debit card for payroll payments and a convenient and secure alternative to receiving paper pay checks.

The Focus Card can be used anywhere that accepts debit cards and Visa members while providing easy access to account detail through US Bank online platform, mobile app, and automated text alerts. Cash can be accessed via cash advances at Visa member locations, through ATM’s, and at any merchant that allows withdrawal at the time of purchase.

U.S. Bank requires employees review and accept bank disclosure. In order for us to do this, employees will need to go to the Dartmouth Payroll Office to sign up. The Payroll Office is located at 7 Lebanon, Suite 309, Wednesdays and Thursdays, between 10:00 am - 2:00pm.
Live Finance & Admin Training via Zoom
Employee Time Management Supervisor Training
A new course, “Employee Time Management Supervisor Training”, is being offered for all supervisors of biweekly employees. This course is a joint effort of the Payroll Office, Human Resources, and the Finance Centers.

The Employee Time Management Supervisor training is a required course for all supervisors managing biweekly employees. This course will provide an overview of employee time management, supervisor responsibilities, employee time detail report review, timecard corrections, and overview of payroll processing.

We had an incredible response to the first two course offerings, so we have added an additional offering on Wednesday, March 23, 10:00 – 11:00 AM (click here to register). If you are unable to attend now, we will reach out to supervisors in May with the next offering and then every quarter following.

Student Employee supervisors are invited and encouraged to attend this training, particularly if they have not taken the online “DartSmart Student Supervisor Training” in Canvas.

Agiloft Contract Management Training
Live Agiloft Contract Management System training continue to be offered. The live training provides an overview of procurement policies, contracting basics, and instructions for requesting and viewing contracts in the Agiloft Contract Management System.

Training videos (including the End-User training, Power-User training, and more) are also available on demand.
