

Lab Safety Training for Minors

Minors (excluding Dartmouth-enrolled students) who are planning to work in a Dartmouth College lab must complete training prior to starting work in the lab. The PI in coordination with EHS will determine what training is needed. Basic training should include a general lab safety orientation and instruction on any unique hazards in the lab space. Unless trained, no minors shall be present during any activity with the potential for exposure to hazardous materials. Minors need to be supervised by the PI or designated supervisor. For more information, please contact the Department of Environmental Safety and Health at ehs@dartmouth.edu