

Film and Media Studies Modified Major Requirements – Revised 2016

Prerequisites

One introductory course: FS 1 Introduction to Film: From Script Screen or FS 2 Introduction to Television

FS 20 Film History 1 (Silent to Sound)

Other Courses Required:

[No Single Course can count for two different requirements (e.g., FS 45 can count for either requirement #1 or #3 but not both)]

1. One film or media history course from the following:

FS 21 Film History (1930-1960)

FS 22 Film History (1960-1990)

FS 23 Film History (1990-present)

FS 45 U.S. Television History

FS 42 National Cinema

Students may also petition to the department to count appropriate FS 41s (e.g., Genre: Animation History), FS 46s (e.g., Industrial Roots of the Information Superhighway) or FS 47s (e.g., Studio System, History of Documentary) for credit in this requirement.

2) FS 40 Theories and Methodologies of Film and Media Studies

3) One studies course from among the following:

FS 41 Genre

FS 42 National Cinema

FS 43 Film Creator

FS 44 Theory Meets Practice

FS 45 U.S. Television History

FS 46 Topics in Television

FS 47 Topics in Film

FS 48 Topics in New Media Technologies

FS 50 Topics in Media

4) One production course from among the following:

FS 30 Documentary Filmmaking

FS 31 Filmmaking I

FS 33 Screenwriting I

FS 35 Animation: Principles and Practice

FS 36 Experimental Filmmaking

FS 37 Directing for the Camera

5) and 6) Two Courses at an Advanced Level, one of which must be the culminating experience:

FS 32 Filmmaking II

FS 34 Screenwriting II

FS 38 Advanced Animation

FS 39 Advanced Videomaking: Documentary and Experimental

Any courses between FS 41-48

FS 49 Practicum in New Media Technologies

FS 50 Topics in Media

FS 80 Independent Study

FS 93 Major Project

FS 95 Honors Project

Compiled by the Dean of the College Office in conjunction with the Film and Media Department (12/09).

It's important to confirm these requirements with the ORC and/or your major department as those are the official resources relative to major requirements.